

As a father and partner I am experiencing the ups and downs of seeing my son grow up. It is a wild ride of emotions, of lessons learned and shared feelings. Seeing what it means to be a parent I am always inspired to collect those memories, either lessons learned or happy ventures and achievements that we experience.

Victor's Mother - my partner in crime Lena - is one of those caring figures that always will guide you and support you even if she's at her limit. Her passion is what drives her. Within those moments that she and Victor experience, it's where they develop their bond, where they both grow, even if it's an unpleasant experience. No matter the emotions, his troubles or his challenges she guides him. She always cares.
